07-Oct-12 20:14 | Dazzlld

@RMMul #gtie True! But they're only 8&10, so 'tests' are just the class room tests ATM.

07-Oct-12 20:14 | HazelKLarkin

There should be a change to 'how' we test. Get rid of multiple choice/T or F. Eliminate cheating. Allow std to show they know. #gtie

#gtie Big issue with current 'high stakes' tests is that they are mostly 'scribble down all the knowledge you can' type tests ..1/2

07-Oct-12 20:15 | peter_lydon

#gtie rather than apply the knowledge and solve problems type test.

07-Oct-12 20:16 | peter_lydon

@RMMul reading about it in Shavinina's 2009 International Handbook on Giftedness. by Kyung Hee Kim. should be avail on ebook somewhere #gtie

07-Oct-12 20:16 | tbbrwn

07-Oct-12 20:16 | Frazzlld

RT @HazelKLarkin: I've favoured the IB over others like LC because of the CA component & the real world experience. What's IB CA? #gtie

07-Oct-12 20:17 | RMMul

@peter_lydon I think the latter are probably more difficult to evaluate though, no? #gtie

07-Oct-12 20:17 | Dazzlld

@peter_lydon v.v. true, Peter. Wish we could base tests on real-world issues & problems. Use take-home format & give time to reflect #gtie

07-Oct-12 20:17 | tbbrwn

@RMMul #gtie - sorry! IB=Int'l Baccalaureate http://t.co/KI8HuUT6 and CA=Continuous Assessment

07-Oct-12 20:20 | peter_lydon

@HazelKLarkin Thanks.I'd have got CA eventually but not IB ;-) #gtie

07-Oct-12 20:21 | RMMul

More standardised testing is a concern. Once minimum standard reached, box is ticked, "everyone" happy and gifted kid left unstretched #gtie

07-Oct-12 20:21 | FrazzlId

@DazzlId #gtie testing is black and white answers that give a final number; assessment is more subtle but has more subjectivity in it

07-Oct-12 20:26 | peter_lydon

#gtie How do we help children cope with the expectation of tests?

07-Oct-12 20:27 | peter_lydon

One of dd's teachers says junior cycle reform a bad idea as now there will be no practice run for the LC. Odd thinking for a teacher! #gtie

07-Oct-12 20:28 | Frazzlld

@Frazzlld #gtie not an odd logic when the LC is a high stakes tests - kids want the practice - parents even more so.

07-Oct-12 20:28 | peter_lydon

@peter_lydon All we want is a decent education for our kids with the opportunity for them to achieve their potential!! #gtie

07-Oct-12 20:28 | RMMul

07-Oct-12 20:31 | peter_lydon

@peter_lydon We hear one thing but see another when it comes to actual practice. #gtie

07-Oct-12 20:31 | gtchatmod

@peter_lydon @gtchatmod i suppose I equate AfL as "stu knows what they're expected to learn before lesson". part of CCSS, no? #gtie

07-Oct-12 20:31 | tbbrwn

@HazelKLarkin I think you're correct- children need different approaches. #gtie

07-Oct-12 20:31 | RMMul

@F1mum exactly- not too much to ask for really :-(#gtie

07-Oct-12 20:32 | RMMul

@tbbrwn #gtie it's more a focus on feeding back a child's learning to them rather than saying 'you got 5 out of 10'

07-Oct-12 20:32 | peter_lydon

@lynnkavanagh love this! working on this in my current class-speaking less, targeted praise for effort, etc. difficult to break habit! #gtie

07-Oct-12 20:43 | Frazzlld
